

A WMF LEMONADE (or Iced Water) JUG

The central tube was to contain ice to keep the lemonade (or iced water) cool.

This has a height of 35cms from table to top of the finial on the lid (more than 13 ½ inches).

The base has a diameter of 18 cms (over 7 inches)

The inner tube shown below has a length of 22.5cms (just under 9 inches).

So when full – clearly a piece for the servants to carry!

The English catalogue for 1906 of WMF put this piece under the header for - “Water Bottles, Jugs & Services” (quoted as number 84) and this illustration is shown below for your interest after the website photos of the piece shown above and below - both in full and in its’ component parts - and with 105 or more years of wear.

You can just about read the WMF identification on the second mark of the four shown below....
